

Accessibility on <https://www.blastinjury.org.uk/> site

This statement relates only to web pages under <https://www.blastinjury.org.uk/> which are pages created on Wordpress for the Blast Injury Conferences by the Royal British Legion Centre for Blast Injury Studies at Imperial College London.

How accessible the website is

We want as many people as possible to be able to use this website. For example, that means you should be able to:

- Navigate most of the website using just a keyboard
- Listen to most of the website using a screen reader (including JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver).
- Resize to the size of your window, and display a readable text size whichever device you are using
- Zoom in up to 175% without the text spilling off the screen

AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

What we do about known issues

We work to achieve and maintain WCAG 2.1 AA standards, but it is not always possible for all our content to be accessible.

Technical information about this website's accessibility

Imperial College London is committed to making its website accessible in accordance with the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018.

This website is partially compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard, due to the known issues listed below.

Non accessible content

The Royal British Legion Centre for Blast Injury Studies at Imperial College London is currently carrying out accessibility testing on different aspects of the website. Once this is complete, we will update this section with any areas of the website which do not meet accessibility standards.

Non compliance with the accessibility regulations

- The website content is not fully navigable using a keyboard
- The website is not fully functional using a screen reader
- The website provides no text alternatives for non-text content

Reporting accessibility issues

If you need information on this website in a different format like accessible PDF, large print, easy read, audio recording or braille or if you find any accessibility issues not listed on this page then please contact conference@blastinjury.org.uk. We endeavour to respond to your request in 7 working days.

Enforcement procedure

The Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) is responsible for enforcing the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018 (the 'accessibility regulations'). If you're not happy with how we respond to your complaint, contact the Equality Advisory and Support Service \(EASS\).
